

Contents

Introduction	II
1. The Theory of Declarations of Intention	17
1.1 Introduction	17
1.2 Explicit and implicit declaration of intention	19
1.3 Promises, decrees, and authorization	20
1.4 Essentialia, accentialia and naturalia negotii	21
1.5 The theory of will and the theory of reliance	22
1.6 The communication requirement	24
1.7 Intention to achieve a legal effect or to be bound	26
2. Interpretation of Contracts	28
2.1 Subjective interpretation	28
2.1.1 The common intention of the parties	28
2.1.2 The models of dolus and culpa	30
2.2 Objective interpretation	32
2.2.1 Importance of language standards	32
2.2.2 Other circumstances of relevance to objective interpretation	35
2.3 Complementary rule	37
2.3.1 To the disadvantage of the party who could have resolved the ambiguity	37
2.3.2 Minimum rule	39
2.4 Supplementation	39
2.4.1 Supplementation of contracts	39
2.4.2 Typical and individual supplementation of contracts	42
2.4.3 Penalty default rules	44

3. Formalism and Pragmatism in Contract Law	46
3.1 Introduction	46
3.2 An introductory theory	49
3.2.1 Rules and standards	49
3.2.2 Values in contract law	52
3.3 A revised theory	54
3.3.1 Introduction	54
3.3.2 Lack of fineness	55
3.4 Pragmatic considerations in the absence of legislation	58
3.5 Conclusion	60
4. Genuine Freedom of Contract	62
4.1 The concept of freedom	62
4.2 Legal and genuine freedom of contract	65
4.3 Description of freedom obstacle	68
4.4 The ability to choose	71
4.5 Object of genuine freedom of contract	74
4.6 Overall genuine freedom of contract	77
4.6.1 The number of contract opportunities	77
4.6.2 Overall freedom of contract and the value of contract opportunities	81
4.6.3 Being able to refrain from entering a contract	87
4.6.4 The importance of informed and rational choices	90
4.6.5 An ideal observer assessment	92
5. The Unfair Contract Terms Directive: Meaning and Further Development	95
5.1 Introduction	95
5.2 The transparency requirements	97
5.2.1 Requirements of the directive	97
5.2.2 Implementation of the requirements in Swedish law	99
5.3 The unfairness test	100
5.3.1 Requirements of the directive	100

5.3.2	Implementation of the requirements in Swedish law	104
5.4	The non-binding nature of unfair contract terms and prohibitions in the common interest of consumer	104
5.4.1	The requirements of the directive	104
5.4.2	Implementation of the requirements in Swedish law	106
5.5	Why regulate standard contracts?	107
5.6	The unfair contract terms directive as a means of nuanced intervention	111
5.7	Further development of the directive	115
5.7.1	The importance of individual negotiations ..	115
5.7.2	The significance of the terms relating to the main subject matter and the adequacy of the price	116
5.7.3	The significance of changed circumstances ..	118
5.7.4	Towards full harmonisation	119
5.8	Conclusions	120
6.	Freedom of Contract and Collective Agreement	122
6.1	Introduction	122
6.2	Genuine freedom of contract and collective agreements on wages	125
6.3	Genuine freedom of contract, collective agreement and the two faces of trade unions	129
6.4	Different barriers to individual employment contracts	132
6.5	Long-term contracts and employment security	134
6.6	Statutes as an alternative to collective agreements ...	136
6.7	Concluding remarks	138
Bibliography		141
	Commission Notice 2019/C 323/04	153
	EU directives	154
	Cases	154
Index		157